- A topology was created with 2 end devices (PC's) and a router connected through ethernet cables.

- Devices were configured with an IP

- Router was configured with respective interface and IP

- The connected PC's sent a ping to and TTL changes were observed.